

In an exclusive interview for SNOB magazine: He prepares to build his "Cageland"...

NICOLAS CAGE:

I wish I had given all my heart to one woman!

In an exclusive and "explosive" interview to SNOB magazine, Hollywood star Nicolas Cage reveals a lot of mysteries about his professional & personal life, as he clears a lot of rumors & declares shocking facts! What is the real reason of his recent financial crisis and bankruptcy?! What shocking & bold secrets will he reveal for the first time?! And what legacy does he wish to leave his children after he's gone?! What are his biggest failures & regrets in life? Did he say his last Goodbye to acting, after becoming "Goodwill Ambassador" of the United Nations?! What about his addiction to drugs and to Facebook?! And how does he "get his revenge" from his fans & Stalkers?! Here is Nicolas Cage as never seen before!

All he requested was to keep his private life "private"! Done deal, to a certain extent, with some "cheating" & back sneaking!

Is the price of fame & stardom worth it? & what are the negative aspects of being a celebrity and a star in Hollywood?

I like being famous but I do pay a high price. People tend to respect me for my acting talents but not who I really am inside.

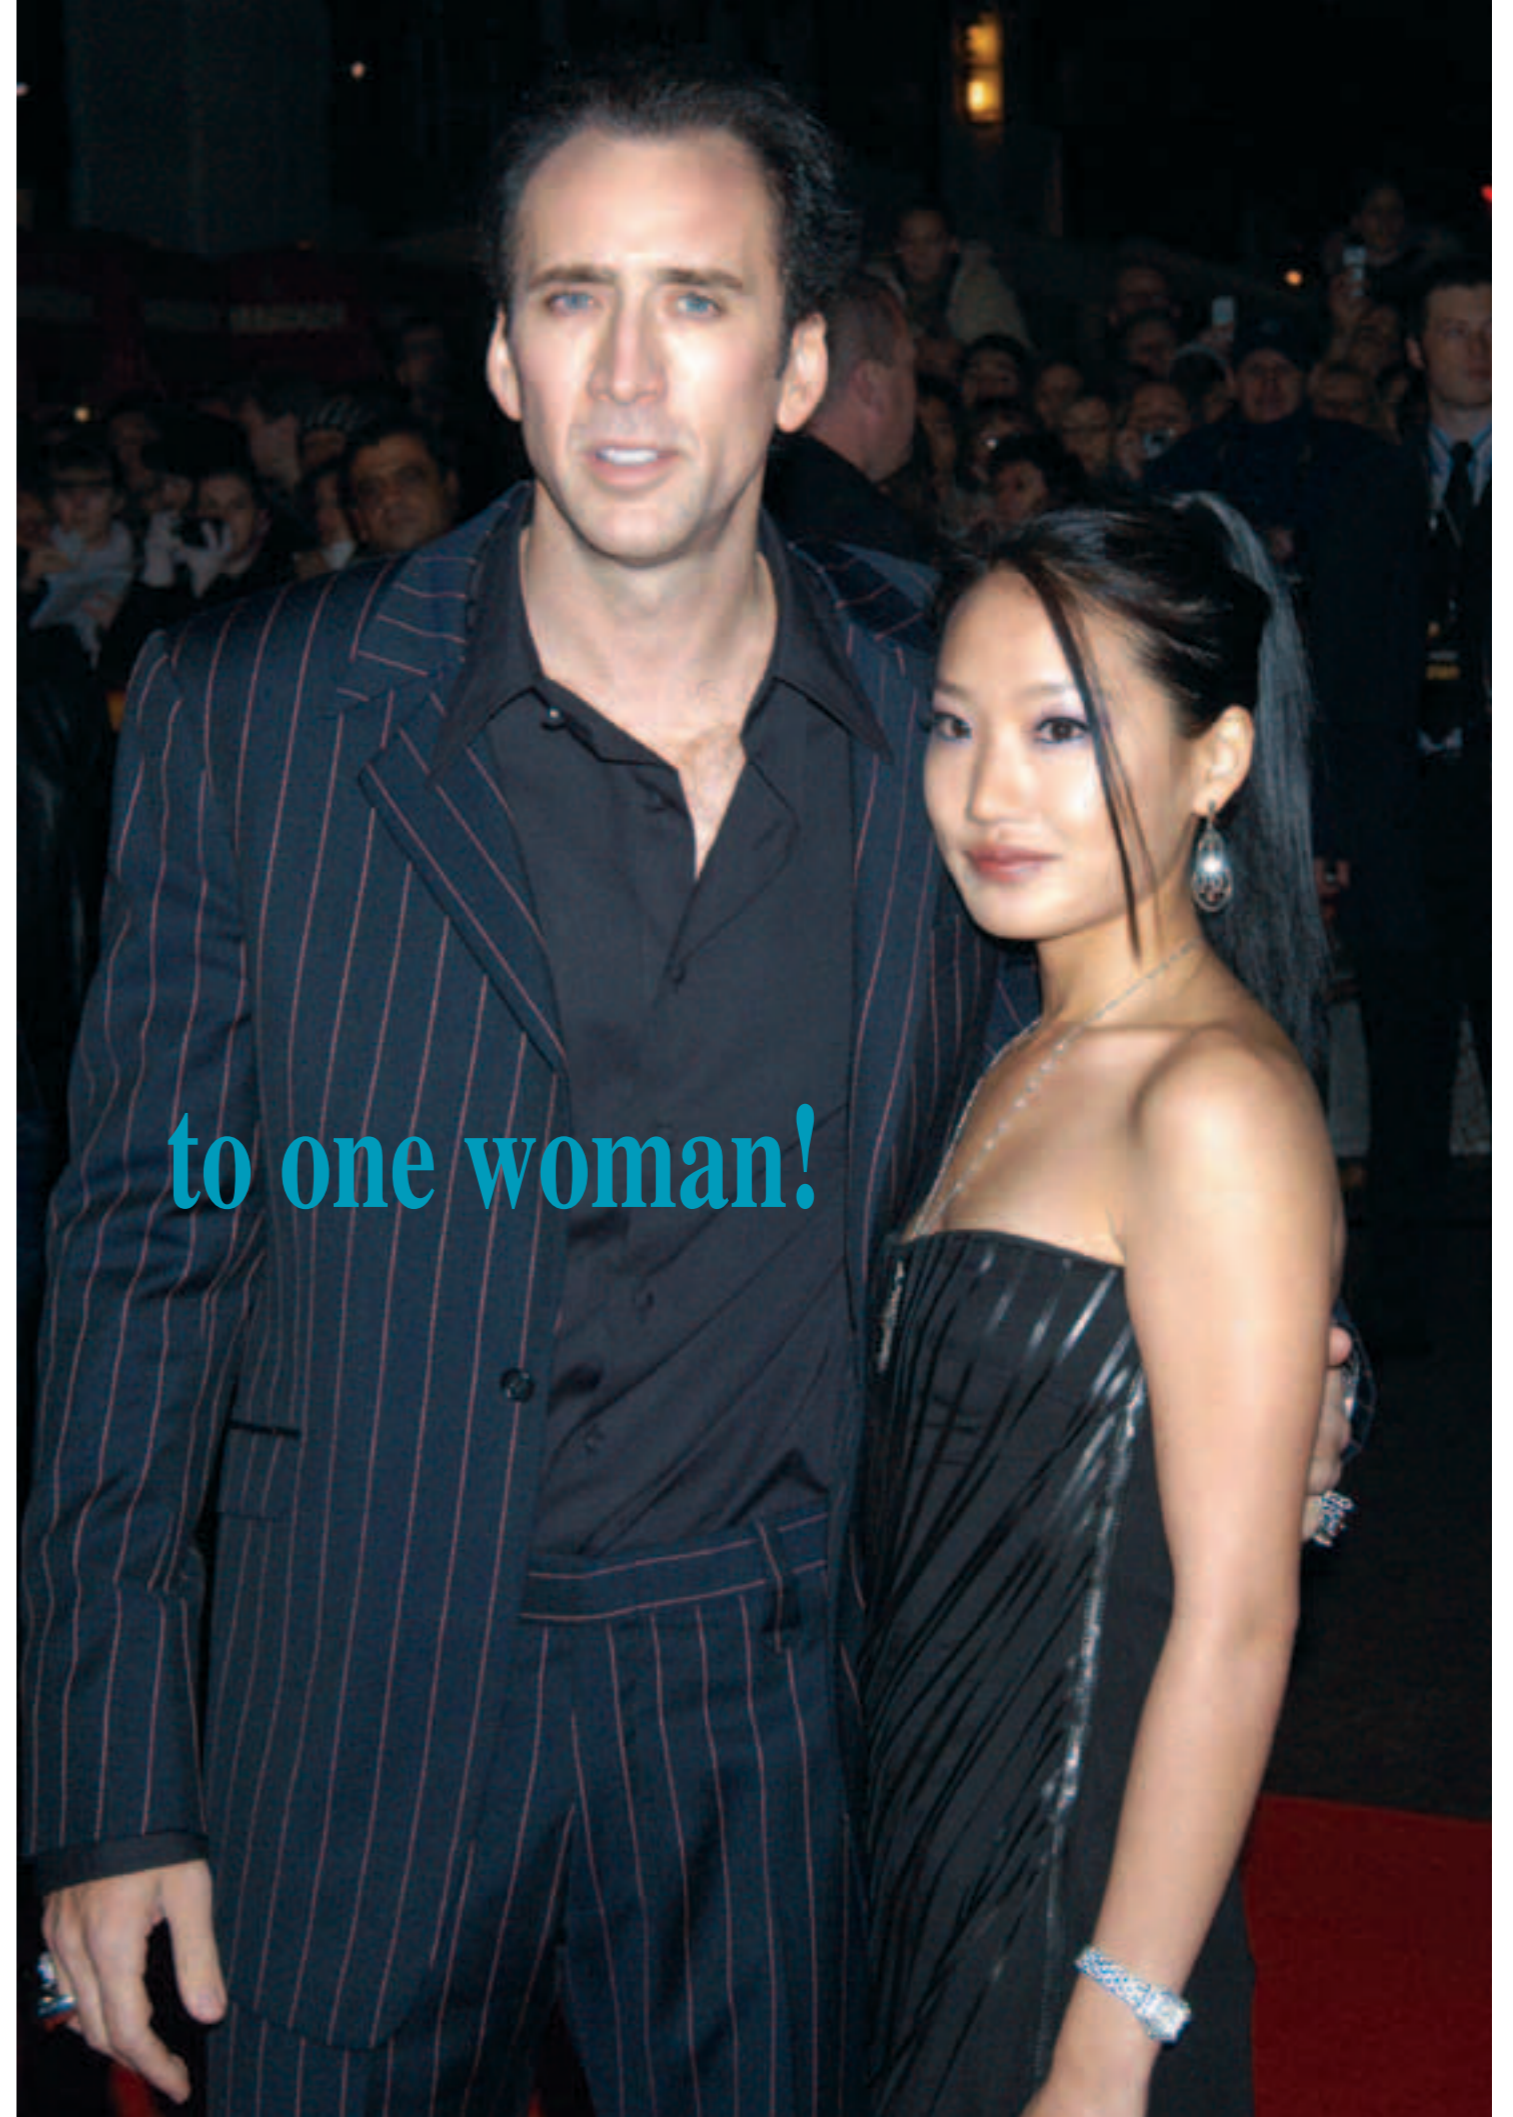

I don't think the glamour and glory will ever vanish but my money is all gone. People assume that because I am still famous and making 5 movies a year that I must have some cash in my pocket but I promise you it's all gone. Plus I currently owe the government 300 million dollars in taxes which they will not see for a very long time. Because of this mess I have had to take on a second job, as you might have goggled, I am currently the United Nations Ambassador for Goodwill, Harmony and Anti-Terrorism. It's a part time job but it is very serious. I visited a jail cell in Kenya and shook hands with real prisoners. I always say it is just like being a Superhero or Jesus but I must protect the entire world instead of one tiny little city and make 5 movies a year. I have been abolishing hunger in Uganda and have defeated organized crime in many third world countries. If Lebanon is a third world country,

I will be there soon to solve your problems. I finished <Ghost Rider 2> in Turkey and then I will have some free time on my hands. Some days I wish there were more ambassadors helping me, I believe that saving the world should be the job of several people instead of just me, but it is not within the UN's budget.

What can you share with us about yourself that not many people know? (Traits- fears- secrets... etc). What are the craziest things you've ever done?

I can't tell you about the craziest things because I don't want to get myself into any more legal issues. However this has been a rather quirky year for me.

I was involved in an exorcism atop a misty mountain where I developed a taste for marmots. I sadly must admit that I have attempted suicide. I purchased a small pyramid-tomb and arranged for my final mummification in New Orleans. I am afraid of spiders and sharks. I am medically considered 25% Autistic but that obviously has never stopped me.

Being known as a movie star, do you ever consider starring in a TV series? If yes, which of the famous TV series would you like to be a part of?

I could see myself on a reality show one day like, <Celebrity Rehab> or <Intervention>, but generally TV shows are quite low-class where I come from, just another way for Americans to completely withdraw from the real world while remaining visually stimulated by its horrors and sexuality. I never understood why great actors like Christian Slater and David Hasselhoff have decided to ruin their careers by flaunting their beautiful bodies on the TV screens. Maybe I will make my own TV show one day. I feel there are no other actors

The Lebanese are a proud people... & I compare Beirut to the Phoenix.

I was involved in an exorcism atop a misty mountain where I developed a taste for marmots!

in Hollywood whose range of character and depth of emotion exceeds my own. Movies like <Face Off> and <Con Air> can be watched over and over again. Jealousy is a human characteristic which I have not previously been involved with but I can say from the bottom of my heart that Christian Slater is wonderful and even better to chat with on Facebook.

What are your biggest regrets in life? What do you regret doing & what do you regret not doing? What are your biggest mistakes & your biggest prides & accomplishments?

I regret making the film, <Wicker Man>, I don't know if it was a smash hit in Lebanon, but in America it is considered one of the worst films ever made. It has been almost 10 years and people still throw garbage at me for my performance. That is the problem with Hollywood, you can release 30 blockbusters but your critics will always remember your biggest mistake. And clearly, the problem with Hollywood is also prescription drugs I could write a whole book about regrets if I think about it.

What are your hidden talents & unusual hobbies?

I think it is my vibrancy which gets me through life. My vibrancy shines from within; most people have no vibrancy at all. I am great at Facebook; I hit my friend limit. I think my most unique talent is my ability to read minds and I can see ghosts during lightening storms. I am a great collector; I can collect anything as long as it's expensive and rare; dinosaur bones, shrunken heads, diamonds, islands, Rolls Royces.

From your own point of view, can you tell us about the law suit between you & Samuel J. Levis? Can you tell us the details of what led to your bankruptcy? & how is your financial situation now?

My first answer is No! Because it's not favorable for me to experience the pain over again, But if you must Know:

The American media will make you believe that I blew my money on castles, jets, shrunken heads, islands, comic books, pyramids, emeralds, Dr. Phil, dinosaur bones and exotic life forms, but that is only part of the truth... I am here to tell Lebanon the real reason for my bankruptcy is that I hired an incompetent savage to manage my spending habits. While balancing limitless credit cards and bank accounts in the billions of dollars it is very easy to overspend and the job of any financial adviser is to keep track of every penny so that I can enjoy my life of well deserved luxury. Instead of protecting my finances he was spending time with his family watching television!!! Because of Samuel's savagery, I owe the taxman 300 million dollars. When I tried to sue him the judge laughed at me. This is why I am drinking cheap wine right now and hanging out with friends on social networks...

How do you cope with life's disappointments, failures, tragedies, misfortunes, hardships and cruelties? Have you become somewhat immune after a long career in the ungrateful "fairytale land" of Hollywood?

I like to watch my old movies when I'm sad like The <National Treasure> series because they are mystical and uplifting. Sometimes while watching, I press <pause> to see if I can remember the lines. I have also found solace in Facebook this past year and feeding the Africans made me feel pretty good inside as well. Suicide is not an option for me because Dr. Evi Hamil is my new spiritual advisor. She channels information from the pyramids and the stars. I know that the great pyramids are in Egypt...

Are you a politicized person? & do you imagine yourself becoming a politician like Arnold Schwarzenegger or Ronald Reagan before him?

My politics are old fashioned, based on a set of beliefs and values given to me by my loving parents who taught me we are here to treat others with the same respect and courtesy that we would want...And if we can't do that we fail...As a government! And as humanity! So I guess I would not make a great politician...

If you were to write, direct, produce and act in a movie, what would be the story? & which actors would you choose as partners? Let's say: What is your ultimate dream-movie?

Actually, I am producing my own dream movie right now. My associate Patrick Prendergast and I have recently put together a short, 17-minute, detective, thriller entitled <Cast a Shadow>; based upon a terrible nightmare I once had. It is a dark and mysterious, low-budget, mystery thriller. Other than me, it is a completely independent production with real down-to-earth people who have no major experience in the industry. The industry rapes great people and so it is nice to work with fresh minds that have not yet been destroyed battling prescription drugs. I think a truly dazzling film does not require a 200 million dollar budget or lots of wonderful special effects or wizards. I'm not taking any formal credit for production because I want an honest opinion from our audiences when we unleash it at the Tribeca film Festival this year. We have been working on it for over a year because I have been busy as Global Ambassador fighting crime all over the world

Would you consider publishing your autobiography like many celebrities do, revealing shocking secrets of their lives? If yes, would you censor certain parts or divulge everything?

I would divulge on significant topics ...Stories that I think my readers would relate to such as my fight against crime throughout the world! And yes I would tell stories about how Christian Slater and I were late to the set of 'Wind Talkers' having been detained at a local pub... and had everybody worried... even under our present stupor, pulled off the best scene of our lives! Or how I Feel about friends I've never met on the social networks...I would find many funny stories to tell!

Most Hollywood productions portray Arabs as terrorists. What is your opinion about this racial & ethnic dilemma?

The current entertainment bias fed the American public is a concern of mine... and the real Scholars seem to be disregarded in matters of grave importance and that includes politics...One of those is how we get our media...and yes Hollywood...The laws of attraction rest in the American hands and as a nation of people it is our duty to decency and good will to all people...This was painstakingly written by our Forefathers in the Constitution of the United States. I believe the people of our country are not always so blind to see the truth...So hopefully other nations will understand that we, the People of America, wish no harm to others! It's just that there are too many unemployed stunt men and they have to work too so we keep blowing up cars in movies, and portraying foreigners as bad guys... that's what people pay to go see!

If you got an offer from a big production Lebanese or Arab movie, would you accept it? Would you try to learn some Arabic language, if necessary? & would money be the main issue on which you base your decision? Which role would you like to play in such a movie?

If I did choose to act again I would take on a sexy cop thriller... and co-star with an important foreign actor...as a role as Lebanese cop it would give me the opportunity to stay in your country but would be filmed in Pakistan and India also. Some of the language would be in Hindu and some would be in Arabic and we'd do a 3rd take for the English version as well...Money would be unimportant as long as I was provided room and board and a good bottle of Lebanese wine... I've learned that Lebanon is among the oldest sites of wine production in the world dating back to the Phoenicians viticulture...

You seem to be addicted to social networks -namely FACEBOOK. Does it fill a certain void in your life or in your heart or what? Tell us about your experience with FACEBOOK...

Facebook has granted me the opportunity for the first time in my life to interact and connect with billions of my stalkers from within the safety of my basement, or even from upon the salty beaches of a tropical island. For the first time in my life I am developing real human relationships with people that my security guards would normally attack. I was afraid of the idea at first but quickly discovered the benefits and eventually found my new home. Last month I spent over 300 hours on Facebook, photo shopping myself into the backgrounds of my fans photos. What is funny is that now my fans are calling me a stalker, because I abruptly enter into personal conversations, I steal friends and suggest enemies. I have even been known to spread terrible rumors about normal, unimportant people just so they understand the negative aspects of fame. Christian Slater and I were once horrible enemies due to a drug frenzy, now we are the best of friends thanks to Facebook. I think Facebook is taking over our lives in ways that television and family cannot. Some nights are horrible; many fans send me naked photographs of course!

If you had a second chance in life, would you have gotten married or stayed single? Do you agree with those who say that "Marriage is a failing institution"?

I do not believe in any institution. But if I had another chance to love, I would have given one woman my whole heart instead of only half.

If you went back in time and were to rebuild your life all over again, how would you do it? What major changes would you do (professionally & personally)? And what other career would you choose?

I wish I made more movies, more blockbusters. And I wish I did not lose all my money. I have recently announced that I will no longer be pursuing a career as an actor so that I can focus on being the world's Global Goodwill Ambassador. This summer I am making a world tour, visiting 39 countries in 21 days,

To my sons: "Hire a good financial adviser and everything will be fine... & stay away from the drugs!"

The real reason for my bankruptcy is that I hired an incompetent savage to manage my spending habits!

There are no other actors in Hollywood whose range of character and depth of emotion exceeds my own.

fighting famine and genocides while supporting feminism. It is a challenging project but I am excited to visit these distressed countries that I never knew existed. In Africa for instance, there is a country called <Togo>. I would like to build little castles or min-Arabian palaces there and all over the world so that their homeless people will have a place to sleep and I can have decent office spaces to work in. Some of these countries I have visited do not even have nice hotels or toilets so I have even slept in wooden huts like a hermit. Many of these poor underdeveloped countries are unfortunately stricken with tarantulas. In Kenya something bit my ankle and I think it was a scorpion so I was immediately carried to a hospital and they gave me the antidote. I wish they also had the antidote for hair loss.

As a parent, what advice would you give your children to face life's challenges and to avoid the same mistakes you made or to avoid going through the hardship you faced?

Hire a good financial adviser and everything will be fine for you my dear one. You are blessed as you walk upon this terrible earth so do not fail because the fires of regret are strong and everlasting. You are my chosen one so grow up glamorous and strong. I don't care what the doctors say, stay away from the drugs and your mind will be well.

How do you imagine (and wish) your Life would be if you weren't famous?

If I was not a famous actor I would want to live in a world where everyone is equal and there is no hunger or war because right now life is only fun if you are rich or famous like me. Ordinary people are poor, hungry and upset. They must pray to Gods and angels to help get through the day because every living moment is a burning hell. Quantum Physics and my Spiritual Adviser Dr. Evi Hamil have taught me that if we want change, we must bring it about ourselves with our own consciousness by creating revolutions. Hence parallels the self activation within. Even the ancient Egyptians knew this. I awaken every day and say a very powerful mantra: <Wow, I'm Nick Cage... I am grateful to be myself>. Many actors say they want to feed the hungry or fight crime but they don't do anything about it. I can say that I am quitting acting to become a real-life action hero.

Choose some celebrities and tell us about them something bold or something that you haven't declared to the media concerning them...

I uploaded a photo on Facebook of George Clooney's nude body from our annual week-end adventure last summer and it was quickly removed by security for containing <graphic and offensive imagery>. Everyone in Hollywood has a major drug problem right now but I don't want to drop any names. I was neighbors with Leonardo DiCaprio; he swims naked every morning in his beautiful pool. I watched Christian Slater sun tanning naked a few times while filming the epic hit <Windtalkers>, he has the kind of body that never grows old on you. While Filming <Face/Off>, John Travolta always walked around the set naked without shame, his massive elk-like features are the envy of every man. I once found a man, indecently a famous actor friend of mine, completely naked of course and sleeping in my garage... I made him tofu and broccoli and I sent him on his way wearing one of my nice Versace suits. I am a natural healer and I will help everyone.

If you could become another famous person (man or woman), who would you be? & if you could possess a super power, which would you choose?

I would be one of the first gypsies, travel around and have carnivals; I would entertain with music and magic! Obviously I would be like a Shaman and be popular in all kingdoms... I lived this fantasy for real in a past life.

How do you imagine your life would be in 20 years? And what do you see your future as... and what is the legacy you want to leave behind?

I hope to win some more Academy Awards but I have already announced that my acting career will be replaced by my current role as Global Adviser. In 20 years I will probably be the head of the United Nations. My life goal is to make this world a safe and happy place where everyone is fed properly and there is no organized crime or overbearing governments. It hurts me that we have a global hunger crisis while clearly there is enough food to feed everyone on the planet. I no longer want to see Food Markets overstocked with food in America while children in Africa are dying of starvation. I am currently working on a proposal based on a vision of mine that will rearrange the borders of every country based on population size. Governments will soon begin working for their citizens, lowering taxes and offering healthy living standards and incentives. Just because your God has forsaken you, it does not mean that Nick Cage will. I will take the 300 billion dollars my country spends on the military every year and give it to every citizen of the world so we can all live a healthy lifestyle and have a nice little apartment with a toilet somewhere.

We should all be enjoying <Drive Angry> in 3-D this year and <Face/Off> and <Con Air> should be in everyone's DVD collection. There are children in Uganda who have never seen <Kick Ass> or <National Treasure> 'Leaving Las Vegas' or 'Sorcerer's Apprentice', because they don't have TVs yet. One day I fantasize of a different world... I think this new planet could be called <Cageland>. Education is free and there is no need for weapons. We will come together as a global family and start having fun traveling the universe. There is so much beauty and harmony

The problem with Hollywood is: you can release 30 blockbusters but critics will always remember your biggest mistake!

My most unique talent is my ability to read minds and I can see ghosts during lightning storms!

I was afraid of FACEBOOK at first but quickly discovered the benefits and eventually found my new home... It's taking over our lives in ways that television and family cannot.

that we can achieve together. We will surely all be flying around in electromagnetic cars and cloning dinosaurs someday...

What do you know about Lebanon? Would you consider visiting it, as a tourist or to shoot a movie? & do you know any Lebanese celebrities or friends?

I know Tiny Tim was of Lebanese descent and his father, Butros Khoury was a Jewish High Priest there...And that millions of other Americans loved Tiny and flocked to him like fawning babies... Mel Gibson made a movie about Jesus spoken in Aramaic and Lebanon has the only people that can understand and speak this language of gospel times... I know <Ghost Rider 2> will be a huge hit in your country. Beirut was named the top place to visit in 2009 by The New York Times. It was also listed as one of the ten liveliest cities in the world by Lonely Planet in 2009. Also the Ancient Lebanese invented the phonetic alphabet. Lebanon is a diverse country; it has 100 banks and 40 daily newspapers. It is hard to imagine but there are 15 rivers in Lebanon. Beirut has been destroyed and rebuilt 15 times that is why I compare your city to the Phoenix. People say that the cedars were planted by God's own hands and this is why I call Lebanon, <God's Country on Earth>. Lebanon is the only country in the Arab world without a dictator; they even have an elected President. The Lebanese are a proud people.

What do you say to your countless Lebanese & Arab fans that look up to you as a role model, and to the readers of SNOB magazine?

Stay strong and stay alive... Viva-La-Revolution!!!! Please enjoy <Drive Angry> in eye-popping 3-D and get ready for <Ghost Rider 2>, it will be much better than the first one. My friend Beau wanted to say hello and, 'You're doing a good job the with the revolution and all but don't turn out like us, have a life that people can enjoy, stay human... keep this up and you will have so many things.. Hopefully something real will come out of it and maybe we can learn from you... It is our world now it'll turn out the way we make it... it's going to be good or it's going to be bad... It's going to be what we make it... There is a grace of this earth that makes people comfortable and there is the grace that costs people their lives... It's our choice...'

And remember, '«MPR: activates an inter-dimensional staircase of interconnection and resultant transference of energetic, both up and down the dimensional spectrum... This trait illuminates one of the keys... As to why quartz is such a supreme multidimensional inter-linkage matrix, and how these dynamics occur...»(Multidimensional piezoelectric reactivity).....here we go...'

Dr. Evi Hamil. My Spiritual Adviser...
